next week, and promises to be well attended, ples." which was then only two years old.

The weather is very fine, with alternate Partridges are more abundant than they are having a fine time of it.

Fairfax continues to improve, and business is reviving. There are many new buildings going up in different portions of the town, and many more in contemplation. Some of them are large and substantial, and will add much to the appearance of the place. Additions are being made to a number of smaller houses, and repairs are going on in every direction. Depot street is alive some days with wagons bearing produce of all kinds, and the shipments from the Dopot are heavy. Our people complain of dull times and scarcity of money, but what town shows as much activity in business at this time as Fairfax? -- Cul-
